

Department of the Treasury Financial Crimes Enforcement Network

Amy Taylor
Associate Director, Technology Solutions and Services Division

Amy Taylor serves as Chief Information Officer (CIO) and Associate Director of FinCEN's Technology Solutions and Services Division. Ms. Taylor oversees the technical infrastructure that supports FinCEN's statutory mandate for the collection, analysis, and appropriate governmental dissemination of Bank Secrecy Act (BSA) data.

Ms. Taylor joined FinCEN in April 2007, serving as Assistant Director for Customer Relations Management. Prior to joining FinCEN, she had more than 17 years of experience in the Federal government, supporting the Department of Defense. She has significant integration and infrastructure expertise and a broad base of experience in IT systems' development to include: requirements management, analysis, systems design, development, testing, deployment, and training.

Ms. Taylor obtained her bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Virginia Tech, and her master's degree in information systems from George Washington University.
