General Comment:We noticed no changes to banking services since April 2005. Present targeted regulatory directives gave the tools, reasons, and the opportunity to banks to shut down MSBs.

At the present, MSBs are towards being ?un-bankable? segment of the business community. Unless, the government has that agenda it should come up with new directives and regulatory regimes that reverse this very unfortunate trend against law abiding MSBs of the nations.

Presently, as a MSB business we are at the point of running out of banks to even try to do business with.
